Info that's good to know.

What does this plan cover?

Your water heater or water softener is covered for 5 additional years after the manufacturer's warranty for labor costs associated with breakdowns, mechanical and electrical failures, power surge, and more. We also cover the cost of a new tank if the manufacturer's parts warranty expires during your protection plan term.

What about tankless water heaters?

Yes, this plan covers tankless water heaters.

When does my plan start?

You're covered by the manufacturer's warranty for labor costs from Day 1 when you buy your water heater. With a The Home Depot Protection Plan, we cover labor costs for an additional 5 years after the warranty expires.

Do I need my receipt to file a claim?

Yes. Your receipt is required to file a claim. But you can save it with us in 3 easy steps:

- Take a photo of your receipt
- Text the receipt image to 202202 (Message and data rates may apply.)
- We'll text you back to confirm

What doesn't my plan cover?

This plan does not cover parts, accidental damage, intentional damage, heavy commercial use, loss, or theft.

What if I need a replacement water heater?

If we determine your water heater needs replacing, we'll reimburse you the purchase price with a The Home Depot eGift Card or check. Or, we'll find you a new one and cover the cost of its delivery and installation.

*Based on industry average water heater repair and labor costs plus U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics (May 2024) compared to the price of The Home Depot Protection Plans by Allstate for water heaters. Actual labor costs vary by location and individual circumstances. Not all labor costs exceed the cost of a The Home Depot Protection Plan by Allstate.
